Großglockner High Alpine Road

This Exkursion leads us across the Grossglockner high alpine road by one of the greatest natural landscapes of the Earth, with a length of approx. 45 kilometers, up to the foot of the Grossglockners (3,798 m) and its glacier, the "Pasterze", the longest glacier of the east alps. The most famous alpine road pulls itself along old Roman paths and wurde after 5-years heavy work in the year 1935 opened. With the building of the Grossglockner high alpine road the majestic summit received a new dimension. Since then it is considered to a most popular trip goal of Austria.

A break on the Edelweisspitze (2,571 m) makes with good view a view of thirty 3,000 m high mountain points for you possible. At the foot of the Grossglockners Franz Josefs height they can visit the highest mountain and the largest glacier of Austria. On the way we experience there vegetation zones of the Green know up to the eternal ice. The nature experience of the special kind, which can be experienced by the guests directly.
